The opportunity:

An opportunity to join the team running this ground breaking programme, build some strong foundations for your career, and work with talented people who are passionate about what they do.

The Innovation Gateway enables its clients to transform the performance of their buildings, by sourcing the most exciting innovations in energy, waste, water, productivity and wellbeing. Clients include world-leading organisations like Tesco, Heathrow, Kingfisher Group, RBS, Nottingham City Council and the University of Edinburgh, with more to follow soon.

The role:

The Innovation Scout is an important entry level role, in a dynamic and fun team. The responsibilities of the role are varied, which will enable you to hone many of the skills that will be required for the further development of your career. You will be working in an interesting field, and will be able to see the personal contribution that you make to the clients we work with.

The types of things that you'll do:

- Find innovators that are relevant to the challenges that our clients face.
- Engage innovators (email and telephone), help them work out how they can solve our clients' challenges, and how they can get involved in the Innovation Gateway programme.
- Take responsibility for elements of our programme delivery including the management of innovation data, the organization and delivery of pitch days, the compilation and quality control of innovation briefing packs.
- Attend industry events and develop connections with innovators and potential partners.
- Contribute to the social media campaigns run by our marketing department.

About you:

- You're a socially capable team player, who loves learning about lots of different things.
- You embrace change and can work on projects autonomously with minimum supervision.
- You like multi-tasking, and can do so whilst ensuring all important things get done properly.
- You have strong verbal and written skills, with excellent attention to detail.
- You understand technology, and are interested in how it can solve problems

- You're enthusiastic about helping clients to have more sustainable buildings
- You have graduated from a good university and hold a good degree.
- You'll have at least one year's experience in the workplace.

Why you'll like working for us:

We have amazing people. You will be part of an ambitious team, and work with colleagues who are motivated by a belief that the work they do positively contributes to the world we live in.

You'll make a big difference. You will be able to see how the work you do is valuable to our clients. We encourage new ideas and will give you the chance to run with them whenever they make sense.

We value your personal growth. You will have a chance to develop your skills and learn new things from day one.
